MULTIPLICATION

Abbey's Year 4 buzzed with excitement as parents and carers stepped back into school life for a high-energy multiplication workshop. Laughter and friendly rivalry filled the room as families teamed up to tackle times tables through games like Snakes and Ladders, Battleship, and fast-paced Snap challenges.

Children had shown off their growing confidence while adults brushed up on their own maths skills, all with one goal in mind: mastering multiplication ahead of the Year 4 National Test.

Teachers had praised the fantastic turnout, saying the session proved that learning can be both fun and effective when school and home work hand in hand. By the end, smiles were wide—and times tables knowledge was stronger than ever.
