LIFE

There were smiles, splashes and serious determination as Viaan Samra and Josh Wouemietchag took on the muddy 5K Race for Life challenge.

The inspiring duo threw themselves into the course with energy and enthusiasm, tackling every muddy step with resilience and spirit. But this was more than just a race — it was a cause deeply personal to both of them.

Thanks to the incredible generosity of family and friends, Viaan and Josh also raised valuable donations to support the vital work behind Race for Life. Every stride they took helped make a real difference. With mud on their trainers and pride in their hearts, the pair crossed the finish line having created unforgettable memories together.

A huge well done to Viaan and Josh — true champions making a difference where it matters most.

Thanks to Viaan's mum for the story.
